Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 19-24 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 19-24 of copending Application No. 09/672,948 in view of claims 24-29 of copending Application No. 09/677420 and Ooi et al (US 5,007,008).

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection.

The patented claims, taken collectively, disclose all the subject matters claimed in the instant application, except for "the synchronization data being unique words". Nonetheless, the use of "words being unique and distinctive" as synchronization data in communications systems is well-known in the art at the time of the invention (see Ooi et al, for example, Abstract, Fig. 1, element 5). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to employ widely known "unique words" as synchronization data in the copending claimed system when it is feasible to do so in a particular design.

Art Unit: 2634

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 19-24 are allowable over prior art of record.
